

New Trends in Digital Regulation

This course is designed to empower regulators and public officials from different government institutions with a comprehensive understanding of how digitalisation affects their work. These challenges are represented by Artificial Intelligence (AI), new data sharing needs and data protection safeguards, mutual cooperation in the context of designing national digital strategies and related regulatory approaches, such as regulatory sandboxes. The course is jointly organised by the Centre for a Digital Society (CDS) and the Secretariat of the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD).

24-26 June 2025

RESIDENTIAL COURSE
Florence

INSTRUCTORS

Thibault Schrepel
Vrije Universiteit

Natalia Menéndez González
EUI

Pier Luigi Parcu
EUI

Gerald Hopster
Dutch Data Protection
Authority

Alexia González Fanfalone
OECD

Vladimír Sucha
EUI

Antonio Capobianco
OECD

Marco Botta
EUI

Anna Renata Pisarkiewicz
EUI

Aymeric Pontvianne
French Data
Protection Authority

Danielle Borges
EUI

Katarina de Brisis
Digitaliserings

Ori Schwartz
OECD

Madalina Busuioc
Vrije Universiteit

OPEN ROUNDTABLE

Open to the public: Regulatory roundtable 'Establishment of a Data Unit', chaired by William Kovacic, George Washington University on 25/06.

BENEFITS

1

Compare how Artificial Intelligence affects the work of regulators and public institutions.

2

Identify the role of data sharing and data protection rules in the work of government institutions.

3

Appraise new regulatory approaches in the digital age, such as the importance of networks of regulators and regulatory sandboxes.

4

Analyse how regulators are adapting to face the challenges stemming from digital transformation.

5

Exchange insights and expertise with fellow participants from diverse sectors and countries.

6

Expand your professional network.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Participants who have regularly attended the residential course program will receive a 'Certificate of Participation'.

REGISTER NOW

Contact

Anna Pisarkiewicz
anna.pisarkiewicz@eui.eu
and digital.society@eui.eu

Scholarships

Thanks to the support of the EUI Widening Europe programme, four (4) scholarships are available for applicants from the targeted Widening Countries. Discover more

Fees

Early bird discount (25% discount) – Registration and payment received before 20 April 2025: 1,500€.
Standard course participation fee – Registration and payment received before June 1, 2025: 2,000€.
Discounts for multiple enrolments from the same institutions: for the third and additional participants from the same organisation: 1,500€ per participant.